Issue No 18 – 15th June 2017

PRINCIPAL NEWS

Dear Parents,

School reports will be sent to your email inbox June 19th.

Here are a few simple tips on how to deal with receiving the report and in talking with your child about the report so that it is a positive and constructive experience.

Before you open the report it is a good idea to run a simple self-check about your child's progress. Check your expectations of your child? Are you focusing on your child's ability given the understanding that all children learn at different rates and that this will also vary as they progress through school. Think broadly about their progress in terms of academics, attitude to school, social development and how they have progressed in these areas. Think about the progress that has been made. Once you have done the above it is time to open and read the report.

It will be important to give some feedback to your child about the report. In relation to this:

- Be mindful of talking in a way that maintains your child's confidence.
- Be honest about the things that need improving but in doing so be constructive about what actually be done to improve things. In this way your child will have some clear ideas about what to actually do.
- Remember including your child in this process builds ownership about learning. Ask them what they think about the report and how they think things are going.

Always finish on a positive note. Help them to feel that their efforts are acknowledged and to look forward to making improvements or building on their strengths. This will help build a platform for the future. Following the plan outlined above can also help as a preparation for three way interviews (two- way in Kinder) which begin next week.

A reminder that Years 1 and 2 will be hosting at the Parish Family Mass on Saturday evening beginning at 5:00 pm in the Church. All families are welcome to attend.

Regards

Mark Bateman – Principal

Ordering your child's (or your) lunch online is super easy with Qkr! – and it's also really easy to cancel the order should the need arise. Information for parents and carers

WHAT IS THE NATIONAL DATA COLLECTION?

The Nationally Consistent Collection of Data on School Students with Disability (the national data collection) is an annual collection that counts the number of school students with disability and the level of reasonable educational adjustment they are provided with.

The national data collection counts students who have been identified by a school team as receiving an adjustment to address a disability under the Disability Discrimination Act 1992 (the DDA). The DDA can be accessed from the ComLaw website at www.comlaw.gov.au.

WHAT IS THE BENEFIT FOR MY CHILD?

The aim of the national data collection is to collect quality information about school students with disability in Australia.

This information will help teachers, principals, education authorities and families to better support students with disability to take part in school on the same basis as students without disability.

The national data collection is an opportunity for schools to review their learning and support systems and processes to continually improve education outcomes for their students with disability.

WHY IS THIS DATA BEING COLLECTED?

All schools across Australia collect information about students with disability. But the type of information currently collected varies between each state and territory and across government, Catholic and independent school sectors.

When undertaking the national data collection, every school in Australia will use the same method to collect information. Therefore, a government school in suburban Sydney will collect and submit data in the same way as a Catholic school in country Victoria and an independent school in the Northern Territory.

The information provided through the national data collection will enable all Australian governments to improve target support and resources to benefit students with disability.

WHAT ARE SCHOOLS REQUIRED TO DO FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITY?

All students are entitled to a quality learning experience at school.

Schools are required to make reasonable adjustments, where needed, to assist students with disability to access and participate in education free from discrimination and on the same basis as other students.

These responsibilities are outlined in the DDA and the Disability Standards for Education 2005 (the Standards). The Standards require educators, students, parents and others (e.g. allied health professionals) to work together so that students with disability can participate in education. The Standards can be accessed via the ComLaw website at www.comlaw.gov.au.

WHAT IS A REASONABLE ADJUSTMENT?

A reasonable adjustment is a measure or action taken to help a student with disability access and participate in education on the same basis as students without disability. Reasonable adjustments reflect the assessed individual needs of the student, and are provided in consultation with the student and/or their parents and carers. Reasonable adjustments can be made across the whole school setting (e.g. ramps into school buildings), in the classroom (such as adapting class lessons) and at an individual student level (e.g. extra tuition for a student with learning difficulties).

WHAT INFORMATION WILL BE COLLECTED?

Every year your child's school will collect the following information for each student with a disability:

- the student's level of education (i.e. primary or secondary)
- the student's level of adjustment
- the student's broad type of disability.

The information collected by schools will be provided to all governments to inform policy and programme improvement for students with disability.

WHO WILL BE INCLUDED IN THE NATIONAL DATA COLLECTION?

The definition of disability for the national data collection is based on the broad definition under the DDA.

For the purposes of the national data collection, students with learning difficulties such as dyslexia or auditory processing disorder as well as chronic health conditions like epilepsy, diabetes or asthma, that require active monitoring by the school, may be included.

WHO WILL COLLECT INFORMATION FOR THE NATIONAL DATA COLLECTION?

Teachers and school staff will count the number of students with disability in their school and the level of reasonable adjustment they are provided based on:

- consultation with parents and carers in the course of determining and providing reasonable adjustments
- the school team's observations and professional judgments
- any medical or other professional diagnosis
- other relevant information.

School principals are responsible for ensuring the information identified about each student is accurate.

HOW WILL MY CHILD'S PRIVACY BE PROTECTED?

Protecting the privacy and confidentiality of all students and their families is essential. Personal details such as student names or other identifying information will not be provided to local or federal education authorities.

Further information about privacy is available from www.education.gov.au/notices.

IS THE NATIONAL DATA COLLECTION COMPULSORY?

All education ministers agreed to full implementation of the national data collection from 2015. This means that all schools must now collect and submit information annually on the number of students with disability in their care and the level of adjustment provided to them.

Information about the arrangements that may apply to your school in relation to this data collection is available from your child's school principal and the relevant education authority.

FURTHER INFORMATION

Contact your child's school if you have further questions about the Nationally Consistent Collection of Data on School Students with Disability.

You can also visit www.education.gov.au/nationally-consistent-collection-data-school-students-disability.

An e-learning resource about the Disability Standards for Education 2005 is freely available for the use of individuals, families and communities at <http://resource.dse.theeducationinstitute.edu.au/>.

Bishop's Religious Visual Arts Prize 2017

The 2017 Bishop's Religious Visual Art Prize is open to all school students up to and including Year 10 from Catholic systemic and congregational schools as well as students from government schools in the Diocese of Broken Bay.

In 2017, students are invited to create a work of art inspired by the theme “Walking the Way”, an expression of our life journeys with God. The art should be inspired by Scripture related to this theme. Suggested Scriptures are included below.

“Life is a journey. It is not an event that happens all at once. Life unfolds, step by step, day by day, year by year. It is a movement of coming and going, descent and ascent, travelling and resting. From their very beginnings, human beings have walked in search of new goals and horizons. Finding the WAY is integral to human existence.” © “Walking the Way” CSO Broken Bay, 2017.

“Walking the Way” with Scripture ~ to inspire art

From the Old Testament

- “Know that I am with you and will watch over you wherever you will go.” Gen 28:15
- “I will walk with you—I will be your God, and you will be my people” Lev 26:12
- “The Lord God had told us what is right: To act justly, to love tenderly and walk humbly with your God.” Mic 6:8
- “Happy are those...who walk in the way of the Lord.” Ps 119:1
- Your word “is a lamp to my feet and a light to my path.” Ps 119: 105
- “ The Lord is my shepherd I shall not want...he leads me beside still waters” Ps 23, 1,2

From the New Testament

- “I am the way, the truth, and the life!” Jesus answered. Jn 14:6
- “The blind are now able to see, and the lame can walk. People with leprosy are being healed, and the deaf can hear.” Mt 11:5
- “A little while before morning, Jesus came walking on the water toward his disciples” Mt 14:25
- “Some people walked ahead of Jesus and others followed behind. They were all shouting, “Hooray for the Son of David! God bless the one who comes in the name of the Lord.” Mt 21:9
- “As Jesus was walking along the shore of Lake Galilee, he saw Simon and his brother Andrew. They were fishermen and were casting their nets into the lake.” Mk 1: 16
- “That same day two of Jesus' disciples were going to the village of Emmaus, which was about seven miles from Jerusalem. As they were talking and thinking about what had happened, Jesus came near and started walking along beside them.” Lk 24:13-15
- “They said to each other, “When he talked with us along the road and explained the Scriptures to us, didn't it warm our hearts?” Lk 24:32
- “I am the way, the truth, and the life!” Jesus answered. “Without me, no one can go to the Father.” Jn 14:6
